

COPPER MINE AT ATWOOD DISTRICT LOOKING FINE

FRANK EVERETT SUMMONED TO PROPERTY ON RECEIPT OF ENCOURAGING NEWS.

Frank Everett, of the Wagner Azurite Copper company, was summoned to the Atwood district today, having received a dispatch which announced that the face of the tunnel on his property was looking better and it was believed that the big copper ledge had been tapped. The tunnel is now in 460 feet and appearances indicate the proximity of the ledge, which shows up on the surface for a width of several hundred feet. Mr. Everett came in from Atwood Monday and intended staying here a week to look after business matters, but the news from the mine hastened his return. The company has ordered an air compressor which will be installed within the next two weeks, when work can be carried on a great deal easier.

SHE HURRIED BACK.

Irving Berlin, the author of "My Wife's Gone to the Country," said: "A true happening was the inspiration of this song."

"In July a Brooklyn woman set out for Ocean Grove, and on her arrival discovered that her watch, a small affair, was missing. She thought it had probably dropped on the thick, soft dining room rug, so she wired to the maid at home: "Let me know if you find anything on the rug in the dining room."

"A few days later she got a letter from the maid saying:

"Dear Madam—I was to let you know if I found anything on the dining room rug. This is what I found this morning: Three champagne corks, 18 cigar butts, 5 cigarette stubs, 4 blue chips, 36 burned matches and 1 pink satin slipper."

SENATOR NIXON SETS FORTH VIEWS ON THE MAIN POLITICAL ISSUES

Outlines His Platform on National Issues
---Would Give Railroads in Nevada a Square Deal But No More.

A Gazette representative called upon Senator Nixon Wednesday and asked him if he had any views as to what issues the state platform, to be adopted at Carson on the 27th of this month, should cover.

In reply the senator said that he had not as yet given the matter much thought, but continued as follows:

Endorses Administration.

"I favor on national lines the endorsement of the Taft administration in general, and particularly the railroad rate bill compelling railroads to secure the approval of the Interstate Commerce commission before advancing rates, and bringing the telephone and telegraph companies under the scope of the interstate commerce act; the creation of a system of postal savings banks; the granting of sepa-ling the injustice done to the intermountain country by the unfair back-haul charge of the railroads, upon which that tribunal had acted. "I personally know the three gentlemen who comprise this body, namely, Mr. Barine, Mr. Shaughnessy and Mr. Thurtell, and I know them to be able, fair-minded men, asking only justice for the citizens of the state of Nevada, and ready at all times to encourage the building of new railroad lines within our borders; therefore, I favor, and I am sure this will meet with no objections from any Republican, that the party pledge itself in the case of its success at the polls on the 8th day of November next, to retain the above-named gentlemen as members of the state railroad commission.

Railroad Plank.

I also favor a strong, vigorous

SENATOR GEO. S. NIXON

rate statehood to Arizona and New Mexico in accordance with the pledge of the national platform; conservation legislation, making legal, land withdrawals already made and authorizing for the future all those the president may deem wise; the appropriation of $250,000 to enable the tariff board appointed by the president, to ascertain the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad, so that in the future congress will be able to intelligently readjust such schedules in the present tariff law as may be considered necessary, and I will enter into this question more fully later on; the twenty million dollar bond issue to enable the prompt completion of irrigation projects already undertaken; the creation of a bureau of mines, which is of much importance to the West; the law requiring common carriers to furnish detailed reports of accidents to the Interstate Commerce commission and the law requiring the use of safety appliances made broader and more complete; the unequivocal and vigorous endorsement of the Interstate Commerce commission in their decision in what is known as the Reno rate case, which will, in due time, enable Elko, Winnemucca and Reno to be active distributing points for all parts of Nevada, southern Oregon and northeastern California.

"I might mention other progressive legislation, but the above are a few laws passed by the recent congress, which I believe worthy of commendation.

Praises Railroad Commission.

"As to state matters, I favor a strong endorsement of the work of the present state railroad commission. It is a non-partisan body, and as I stated in my remarks in congress, in support of what was commonly known as the long and short haul clause, the Nevada commission was a most able body and had prepared and presented one of the strongest cases to the Interstate Commerce commission, show-plank upon the general railroad question. I am not one who believes the railroads have control of the politics of the state of Nevada, and have had for the past ten years as some seem to think, but I shall favor any vigorous, earnest declaration upon all of these matters. There is no politics in such a question; it is simply a question of business, and I believe every man in the state wants to give the railroads a square deal, but no more nor no less. I know that has always been my position and is my position now.

Favors Economy.

"I also favor as a citizen of the state, an economical state administration. It must be borne in mind that while at the present time the mining industry is aiding materially in the support of the state government, through the bullion tax collected, it is not a source of revenue that can be depended upon definitely. Many of us remember the period between the decline of the Comstock, Eureka, Austin, Tuscarora and other one-time flourishing mining camps, and the discovery of Tonopah and Goldfield, and cannot forget that during that period the question of keeping up the state government was a serious problem.

"Of course there are many minor matters that might be touched upon if I had the time to give them thought. In conclusion, however, I will add that I want to see the Republican party adopt an honest, vigorous, progressive platform; one that every candidate can endorse and earnestly support, which every Nevadan, regardless of politics, will approve."
